Hi everyone

As relayed below some the relevant companies under attack in the latest FoE study are anxiously awaiting our response.

Mark - not sure of your thoughts on this one, but last time they ran this both Steve and I felt it was imperative to respond and this time around I'd like someone on camera to relay the safety message and the reassurance. I'd also like to include a line that reflects out disappointment that a very vulnerable population is being unnecessarily scared by these sorts of stories. Happy to hear you thoughts. I think with the right briefing I can do it. There doesn't appear to be anyone else on desk to do it. Not sure when Trevor back?

Lorraine
